Everything. From the moment you decide you’re interested in studying abroad to the moment you return from your program, we’re with you every step of the way, providing first-class support and making sure that your experience is as smooth and impactful as possible.

WHY WE DO IT
Because we believe that spiritual support and service helps enhance your cross-cultural experience and know the transformative impact that study abroad has on students, both personally and professionally.
Honor and Foster Your Religious Identity

ISA Veritas expands upon a traditional ISA study abroad program by supporting and fostering students’ religious identity through engagement in Christian mission work and spiritual support.

During an ISA Veritas Christian Study Abroad program, you will live out your faith by serving a local community, plugging into the Christian community, and exploring the intersection of faith and life abroad through an ISA Veritas academic course.
What Christian Study Abroad Looks Like

“The aspect of having a Mission Mentor made such an impact on my semester abroad and in my walk with the Lord. Each Thursday, I looked forward to riding the micro to my mentor’s house for café, snacks, laughter, and most importantly—studying God’s Word and prayer. In these moments of community, the Lord broke down walls of pride, fear, selfishness, bitterness, and so so much more in my life.”

“Before this trip, I had only been out of the U.S one time for a missions trip. Having a three-month experience was completely different. Overall, I wouldn’t trade this experience for the world. I have learned so much about London, my faith, and just people in general.”

Let's Talk Funding

A lot of study abroad providers don’t like talking about their program prices. We don’t mind it, though. First, because we price our programs to be affordable and inclusive. Second, because paying for your program is a lot easier than you might think.

For starters, if you already use financial aid or scholarships to pay for your education now, it’s likely that you can use those awards to go abroad, too! We even allow students using full or partial aid to defer their program payment until funds are available.

50% of ISA students use financial aid to pay for their program abroad.

Over 75% of ISA students receive a grant, scholarship, or discount directly from ISA for their program.

Start planning now!

Budgeting tools, scholarship information, and payment plan options are available online at studiesabroad.com to help you plan for your program.

Our advisors are also able to walk you through your options and help you get the conversation started with your Study Abroad and Financial Aid offices. Call 512-480-8522 to get started.

Each year, we give away over $1,000,000 to help students achieve their dreams through our scholarship and grants programs.

PRO TIP: Our payment plan options allow you to break up the cost of your program into smaller increments, so you can pay off your balance before you go abroad.
What's Next?
A few steps to make your adventure abroad happen.

1. Pick the Right Program
We can help you determine that perfect program by asking the right questions to better understand what you’re looking for and hope to gain by studying abroad. A few important things to consider are what you want in a destination, what courses you need to take, and what programs fit with your financial plan.

PRO TIP: It’s never too early to start thinking about your study abroad options. Even if it’s the first day of your freshman year, we’d love to help you start planning for your trip abroad. Call 512-480-8522 to book a Q&A session with one of our Advisors.

2. Talk to the Right People
Once you know where you want to go, you’ll want to meet with your Study Abroad office and Financial Aid offices on campus while also continuing to connect with ISA.

PRO TIP: Don’t forget to loop in your family or a trusted mentor. They have an investment in this too.

3. Submit Your Applications
It’s important to remember that you’ll have TWO applications—an application with your Study Abroad office and an application with ISA. Both may take a little time to complete, so we’d recommend starting them early and not just adding them to an all-nighter.

PRO TIP: Don’t feel like you need to do this step by yourself. If you ever have questions when working on your application, we’re more than happy to provide answers. It’s actually our job, and we love what we do.
